

http://www.buckscountycouriertimes.com/tncms/asset/editorial/70920eea-ed5b-11e6-93dc-8bb1870183b0/

Local high school students honored at Arcadia University art show

By Chris English, staff writer Feb 8, 2017

Buy Photo

DDC Works Public Relations

Council Rock High School South student Taylor Radcliffe shows off her printmaking book that won awards at the Touch the Future Art Show at Arcadia University.

The art of many area high school students is being featured at the Touch the Future Juried Art Show that runs through March 2 at Arcadia University in Cheltenham.

Several of the students won awards for their art and were honored during a Sunday reception at the college.

Honored students from high schools in Bucks or Eastern Montgomery counties include: Taylor Radcliffe, Council Rock South, best in show and second place overall for printmaking book; Sean Starosta, Upper Dublin, best in show and third place overall for interactive wooden sculpture; Sarah Wszolek, Upper Moreland, juror's prize for chalk pastel on black paper; Mubassirah Sharif, North Penn, purchase prize for black and white photograph; Karli Dangler, Harry S. Truman, purchase prize for digital photo; Connie Liu, Upper Dublin, purchase prize for chalk pastel; Shivanand Peri, Council Rock North, teacher's choice award for pen and ink drawing.

Sponsored

To Do

Every Wednesday, To Do is your entertainment guide to what's going on in the area. It's a countdown of weekend fun designed to quench your thirst for adventure. No matter what you're looking for - concerts, cabarets, karaoke, shows, comedy, events and more - To Do has the information you need.

Other winners from area high schools were: Sophia Wang, North Penn, black and white drawing; Sophia Tornay, Springfield, painting; Courtney Smith, Souderton Area, 2D mixed media; Chris Bremer, William Tennent, 2D design; Andrej Vasik, Lower Moreland, digital imaging/computer graphics; Jenna Johns, Upper Dublin, traditional silver print; Sarah Murray, North Penn, digital photography; Elizabeth DiSalvo, Abington, 3D mixed media; Honggyung An, Upper Dublin, 3D single medium; Kelli Patrick, William Tennent, 3D functional.

The show was juried by Temple University Tyler School of Art Assistant Director Grace Ahn Klensin. Among those chairing the show were art teachers Carly Najera of Bensalem Township High School and Terry O'Neill of Neshaminy High School.

The show was sponsored by the Mideastern region of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the Council for the Advancement of Public Schools.

Open to the public, the show is on display through March 2 in the Commons Art Gallery area and Great Room Lobby at Arcadia University, 450 S. Easton Road, Glenside section of Cheltenham.

Hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays and noon to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Enjoying our content? Become a Intelligencer subscriber to support stories like these. Get full access to our signature journalism for just 33 cents a day.

Chris English: 215-949-4193; email: cenglish@calkins.com; Twitter: @courierc

Chris English